I Believe I'm Myself Again

Janis Ian

Blue sky by the ocean
I got a bluebird singing freedom
And I'm happy to be living
I believe I'm myself againNo tears to cry him
No desire to linger here
Beside him, without him
I believe I'm myself againI got a whippoorwill, he sing the blues
I got honey bees and roses, too
But they don't sting, the way you do
I believe I'm myself againThanks to all the friends who stood by me
When we were standing still
Now I've got perspective on the situation
And it makes me illHow could I have loved you for so long?
I know I enjoyed you
But how could I have liked youSo thank you, God bless you
Sleep well tonight,you made me cry
But I'm better without you
I believe I'm myself again
