

Try Again

Kim Wilde

Try again, try again I can't see your face
Hear the excuses for the mistakes that you make
I've heard all your lies
I don't know how much I can take before I break I've tried to be so strong while you broke the promises
All the vows that we made
We know something's wrong but we carry on anyway
Day by day You're the one
Who let me down
And now I find it hard to forgive
In my heart But I'll try again to forget all the pain
And love you again I'll try again
Though you hurt me I know
I can't let you go How can we forget the sweetness of yesterday
We just can't let it go
Lost in bitterness I'm losing my self control
And my soul You're the one
Who let me down
And now I find it hard to forgive
In my mind But I'll try again to forget all the pain
And love you again I'll try again
Though you hurt me I know
I can't let you go Oh why, why do we hurt each other more
When there's a way 'cos we never really found
What we were looking for
Can we try again? 'Cos you're the one
Who let me down
And now I find it hard to forgive
In my heart But I'll try again to forget all the pain
And love you again I'll try again
Though you hurt me I know
I can't let you go Try again
Ooh, I'll try again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>