

Choose the One Who Loves You More

Copeland

Rain, rain, rain on my mind
I've got a secret life
Wipe wipe wipe it away
Nothing can make me dry Fight all the while
Fight till I think I'm free
Feel rains we'll never see
Beautiful secret lives It can make you face all your fears
It can make you face all your fears Oh smile, smile in the day
Fear takes it's place at night
Oh oh be in the rain
I love your secret life It can make you face all your fears
It can make you face all your fears I could leave you well enough
Alone believe and you'll be overcome
And gone by grace away
Better off than if I stay I could leave you well enough
Alone believe and you'll be overcome
And gone by grace away
Better off than if I stay I could leave you walk away
We'll save it for another day
Through all the wars have come to know
It's best to know that time was grown in When they come knockin' on your hearts door
Choose the one who loves you more, oh
And when you find something to die for
(Make you face all your fears)
They'll be knockin' on your hearts door
(Make you face all your fears) They'll be knockin' on your hearts door
(Make you face all your fears)
Choose the one who loves you more, oh
(Make you face all your fears) And when you find something to die for
(Make you face all your fears)
They'll be knockin' on your hearts door
(Make you face all your fears) They'll be knockin' on your hearts door
(Make you face all your fears)
Choose the one who loves you more
(Make you)
