

Pretty Boy (Peaking Lights Remix)

Young Galaxy

When we were lost
We found each other
And headed sightless for the sea.
We had no way
Misfit and stray
Living beyond both muse and pity.
And I know you feel isolated
And I feel what you won't say
I don't care if the disbelievers
Don't understand, you're my pretty boy, always.
I felt no pain
When you changed your name
We were each other's only family.
Walking away
Would change the way
And I know you feel isolated
And I feel what you won't say
I don't care if the disbelievers
Don't understand, you're my pretty boy, always.
And I know you feel isolated
And I feel what you won't say
I don't care if the disbelievers don't understand
You're my pretty boy.
And I know you feel isolated
And I feel what you won't say
I don't care if the disbelievers don't understand
You're my pretty boy, always.
Always.
