

Nightmares

Secondhand Serenade

Look away, pray for salvation,
and pray for a sweet conversation.
the problems not with you.
it's without you.
i love the way that you told me i'm better
the way you described me in letters.
theres nothing i can do,
is there nothing i can do.ill scream just to get your attention.
i have seen what happens to a lonely heart.
i have seen the nightmares that tore us apart.so long, wish that you'd tell me your wrong.
that were not dead and buried,
and save your harsh goodbyes,
your salty liquid eyes.
and this song, is just another song.
don't know why i bother.
i can't tell truth from lies.
i can't tell truth from lies.ill scream just to get your attention.
i have seen what happens to a lonely heart.
and ill scream just to get your attention.i have seen the nightmares that tore us apart.
your fires burning bright.
it's burning me alive.
no one can save me now.
your touch was all i had.
it's eating me alive.
no one can save me now.ill scream just to get your attention.
i have seen the nightmares that tore us apart.
