?it?s been a long night the warmth of you washed the strange clouds from my eyes rolled all my dreams into one perfect little world one tiny seed i hold in my hand one key that turns
if my heart beats faster
if time is slowing down
it doesn?t frighten me
i?m still spinning round

watching dark turn into light
turn into dark turn into light when my tongue is tingling for a bit of sunshine one ray comes to crack me open spill me on the ground so i can mingle with the earth and stones mix a little new life into these bones
