Everybody Knows

Mcfly

The sun is in the sky
And it is gonna be a glorious day
So pour yourself a coffee
Put your clothes back on and tell me your name
Now hearts are getting broken
But I guess it's what they call growing up
But don't expect results
Because the kids 'round here just don't give
Nothing really matters, nothing really matters at all
When all your dreams are shattered
Everything is beautiful, nothing ever happens
They think we waste our lives but they're wrong, we're moving on
Everybody knows, you know the ship's going down
Everybody knows, oh we'd say they are jealous around
Everybody knows we're gonna die in this town, yeah
My voice is gone for screaming
And my body aches from giving them hell
You gotta know the truth
That we're not in this for the cash but it helps
Nothing really matters, nothing really matters at all
When all your dreams are shattered
Everything is beautiful, nothing ever happens
They think we waste our lives but they're wrong, we're moving on
Everybody knows, you know the ship's going down
Everybody knows, yeah we'd say they are jealous around
Everybody knows we're gonna die in this town
Everybody knows, everybody knows
Everybody knows we're gonna die in this town
You know, you know
Everybody knows, you know the ship's going down
Everybody knows, yeah we'd say they are jealous around
Everybody knows we're gonna die in this town
We're gonna die in this town
