

Time Can Never Kill the True Heart

Stars

One step closer to the sea wall
Looking down, you can see all
Hold my hand so you don't fall
Catch your breath as the gulls call One heart out of two
One life, me and you One heart out of two
One life, me and you Last mile in the pale light
Take me home with you tonight
We'll touch till it feels right
You won't say, "Love" but I might One heart out of two
One life, me and you One heart out of two
One life, me and you Made love and you muttered, "We're through"
One heart, but the mind was in two
One heart half filled with the dreams of a saint
The other filled with nothing but hate
I hope I die in the arms of a child
In a meadow where the thistles grow wild One heart out of two
One life, me and you One heart out of two
One life, me and you
