

Long Night (Dim Sum Remix)

Guster

It was a long night for everyone,
The moon yields to a sober sun and her virgin light
Can't unsee the things I saw
Fallen devils, false gods
In the violet light
Was it always this magnificent, cause it feels so different
In the morning light
Like the first word from your first born
Landscape transformed by the virgin light
How many times I've wished for change
Gave up, gave in, and called it fate
Repeating all of the same mistakes
Wasn't ready for what I'd find
Whatever it is has turned the knife
It was a long, long night
It was a long night for everyone,
Felt the dull hum of wanderlust
In the morning light
Can't unsee the things I saw
Fallen devils false gods
In the violent light
But now I finally see the sun
Drew out my wings flew over high tide
It looks much different in the daylight
How many times I've wished for change
Gave up, gave in, and called it fate
Repeating all of the same mistakes
Wasn't ready for what I'd find
Whatever it is has turned the knife
It was a long, long night
I'm finally reachin' to the sun
10, 000 years there is a long time
Did you getaway?! I'm finally reachin' to the sun
10, 000 years there is a long time
Did you getaway?!
