Daddy

Tom Odell

Keep waking up in the freezing cold
Of your mother's tears coming through the walls
That same old feeling spinning 'round your head
Your daddy's leaving town againAnd you can hear your baby sister scream
Your innocence get up and leave
It's that same old feeling spinning 'round your veins
Your daddy's leaving town again
And again, and againAnd I blame myself, oh I do
And I blame myself, oh I do
And I blame myself, yeah it's true
Oh, for youKeep waking on the bedroom floor
Seeing shadows underneath your door
It's that same old feeling spinning 'round your head
When your daddy's leaving town again
And again and again
