Keep Calling My Baby

Sahara Hotnights

Screwed up badly the last time
Didn't take the chance to make it right
Figured there was no next time
'Cos I'd been kicking up a storm, I'd been starting up a fightI was standing ready in the front line
Where every little sign you make is a lie
So hard to keep my head tight
Couldn't bend my chords when I triedHe said, did I ever call you honey
When that name wasn't meant for you
Did you ever see me running for a girl half as good as you
Did you ever see me, did I ever do it, no, no, noMust be having one of these days made for messing up
I keep calling my baby but he's hanging upI screwed up badly the last time
Never going for another ride
It told me something new
That all the things we do are better left undoneHe said, did I ever call you honey
When that name wasn't meant for you
Did you ever see me running for a girl half as good as you
Did you ever see me, did I ever do it, no, no, noMust be having one of these days made for messing up
I keep calling my baby but he's hanging up
