Delirium

Epica

Black was the night when I did surrender
I did give in to my weakening sight
Now that I'm empty my dreams once were many Soul's bitter cry to unleash th divineWhen you think there's no way out
And all you see collides
Hope will in the end chase all your fears awayFighting the source was not recommended Trails of a wish were the hope to survive skins full ablazing release crystal gazing
All of it led to a deeper demiseWhen you think there's no way out
And no one comprehends
Hope will show your smile againWhat I left behind
Another night
Of weary dreams, unravelling
What's been left behind
Another time
Where days of late are far away
Far awayLosing my reasons,
No lies to believe in Left the obscure to
The means of escapeCore has been shaken,
There is no more pain to break me
Time has commenced and I long to awakeWhen you think there's no way out
Leave everything behind
You can live your life anewDark days behind me
Won't ever break me nowAll that I left behind
Another night
Of weary dreams, unravelling
What's been left behind
Another time
Where days of late are far awayFar awayJust another night
In another time

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/