

Smiling Up the Frown

Agents of Good Roots

I'm trying to get back to the day
When my bitch came runnin'
From the dead end way
Holding her close in my arms
Yeah my world was doing fine,
Staying away, breaking away as I try
To sell her lies. But now I feel you again
And you left me as I climb
Over the pains, over the chains of my mind
Where the freedom springs from the well of my heart
And the love shines through as he kisses the dark
And the beast smiles up the frown
Into sound
Now I'm trying to roll with the day
As my love keeps runnin'
From the dead end way
One touch I gotta feel you again
And you left me as I climb
Over the pains, over the chains of my mind
Where freedom springs from the well of my heart
Where the love shines through as he kisses the dark
And the beast smiles up the frown
Into sound
