

Who's On Your Side

Pennywise

Looking ahead, not far away, someday soon but not today things may get better, things may get worse depending on who gets there first,
nothing in common, nothing will change,
together we'll go our separate ways,
nothing to stop us from cavin' in,
someone's gotta lose when someone wins,
look at the world you're livin' in
Someday you'll have to pick a side
For the rest of your life who's on your side?
A voice in the dark, a light in the haze,
a flame that burns then fades away,
alone in the night a ship lost at sea,
a state of emergency with no way of knowing what's comin' next,
survival of who fits in best, looking for answers but where to begin, we all wanna know how this one ends, look at the world you're livin' in Someday you'll have to pick a side
For the rest of your life who's on your side?
(Look at the world you're livin' in)
Who's on your side?
(Do you know who you wrap again?)
Who's on your side?
(And your tears are justified)
Who's on your side? This isn't make believe
A faded picture show
As we drown you're slowly lettin' go, look at the world you're livin' in Someday you'll have to pick a side
For the rest of your life who's on your side?
(Look at the world you're livin' in)
Who's on your side?
(Do you know who you wrap again?)
Who's on your side?
(And your tears are justified)
Who's on your side, who's on your side?
