

Broadway Show

Nicky Byrne

Followed her home
On an August bank holiday
Sun hanging low
From a paper blue sky I remember the smell
Of the lavender canopy
Remember the moment
Our hands intertwined In her red summer dress
As we sat on the balcony
I kissed her cheek
Then I whispered a lie
She told me my life was
The ultimate comedy
Showed me the door
Then she waved me goodbye Oh when I was young
What I didn't know
That right from the start
I was playing a part
'Cause life is a beautiful Broadway show Na na na na yeah, na na
Na na na na yeah An American girl
On a train out of Connolly
Happened to sit in the seat
Next to me
Right from the start
There was magical chemistry
Suddenly noticed her looking at me
So I told her her voice
Was as sweet as a melody
Sparkling eyes
Were as blue as the sea
She started to laugh
Spilt her coffee all over me
Then as she left
Said, "Are you kidding me" Oh when I was young
What I didn't know
I was playing a part
'Cause life is a beautiful Broadway show Oh was it wrong
Oh I didn't know

I was playing a part
'Cause life is a beautiful Broadway show
Oh, to be young forever
Would I change a thing?
No not ever
So I'm sitting alone
On the last flight from Kennedy
Thinking of things that I've done in my life
The stewardess smiles
And says
Buckle up safely now
Stop myself thinking could you be my wife?
Oh when I was young
What I didn't know
'Cause life is a beautiful Broadway show
Oh was it wrong
Oh I didn't know
'Cause life is a beautiful Broadway show
Na na na na yeah, na na
Na na na na yeah
Hey life is a beautiful
Yeah life is a beautiful Broadway show
Life is a beautiful
Yeah life is a beautiful Broadway show
