

Here for You

Chris de Burgh

I don't know where the time has gone, suddenly here we are alone,
Only a word before you go, everyone's waiting;
So many friends to say goodbye, so many tears they'll have to cry,
So many wings to help you fly where you are going; And now a plane must take away my child that life has found,
And you will be up in the sky, and I'll be on the ground,
Sending my love with you tonight; I will be waiting, I will be waiting, here for you, here for you; I don't know where the years have gone,
Suddenly here, and you have grown,
It was like only yesterday when you were so young;
But here is the day we had to see, always the same eternally,
This is the way that it must be, now it is your world; And so a plane must take away my child that time has found,
And you will be up in the sky, and I'll be on the ground,
Sending my dreams with you tonight; I will be waiting... I'm trying not to show,
But seeing you go, is the hardest thing that I have known; I [Rosanna Davison] Don't worry about me, I'll be alright,
I will be waiting,
I
[Rosanna Davison] Don't worry about me, I'll be alright,
I will be waiting,
Here for you, here for you, I don't know where the years have gone
