Live Your Life

John Kay

I was raised in the ruins, mama, 'til I was thirteen
Every day I heard the radio
Every night I had the same old dreamTo sing a song, oh, baby, to watch my name in lights
If you wanna see your dream come true
Honey child, you gotta get right down and fightWell, I sailed cross the ocean, girl, I felt so all alone
Many times I thought about going right back home
But the joy I found in song gave me the will to carry onLive your life the way you want to
Don't let fools lead you astray
Live you dreams so you hold on to
All you need along the wayI was paying my dues right here in the land of the free
All the time I learned to sing along
I could not speak and I could barely see
Still all the while I knew where I was atBut the people that believed in me
Lord, I could count them all in seconds flat
Well, someday I would be, I knew it all alongA gentleman of leisure, girl, right or wrong
And though my dream has come and gone
There's plenty more where those came fromLive your life the way you want to
Don't let fools lead you astray
Live you dreams so you hold on to
All you need along the way
