

Underneath The Same Moon

John Rich

Shadows of the night moving on the ground
Like silent clouds, they follow me around
As I wander through the dark, through the midnight mist
Remembering our last kiss, do you know how much you're missed?
Tonight I stand in this lonely place
And I search the heavens for some saving grace
And I cry dying without you
I know you're somewhere looking up there too
Right now that's all two distant hearts can do
Oh, ooh, at least we're underneath
Underneath the same moon, oh
And picturing your face and flowers in your hair
Like you always wear, oh, I can see you there
Longing to be touched but you're out of reach
Oh, hold on please, won't you wait for me?
Tonight I stand in this lonely place
And I search the heavens for some saving grace
And I cry dying without you
I know you're somewhere looking up there too
Right now that's all two distant hearts can do
Oh, ooh, at least we're underneath
Underneath the same moon
Oh, ooh, at least we're underneath
Underneath the same moon, oh
Shadows of the night, moving on the ground
Like sun on cloud, they follow me around
