

Lost In Time

Tad Morose

Waking up the dream I had seemed so real It took me back in time so far away I saw a place unknown to me Empty spaces with harmony Enchanting me with shades of light I can see it shine so bright To reach the sun the moon, the stars That is the way to find my dreams

Shadows of memories fades away so I can see the reason why I live today The answer is not far away Where is the moon I will be leaving soon I have to wake up before I believe I'm trapped within The dream that I had is for real and of course I lived before

This world is nothing new to me I've walked these streets before Feels just like I am lost in time with no return

Waking up the dream I had seemed so real It took me back in time so far away I saw a place unknown to me Empty spaces with harmony Enchanting me with shades of light I can see it shine so bright The reason why I live today The answer is not far away
