Just

C. Basinet

Just a few seconds away
From everyone, from everything
Just a few seconds away
A second of your time
And an inch of my own space
Silence, quiet, need a little peace of mind
After all this, after all that you do
Shut it up, zip it, I need a little time to think
Without all this, without all that you do
Keep it, don't want it, think I'll just go away
Away from here, from you
Time out, walk it off, think I need to throw a flag
Just a little break from the games that you play
Just a few seconds away
From everyone, from everything
Just a few seconds away
All I want from all of you
Just a few seconds away
Away from this, it's never ending
Just a few seconds away
A second of your time
And an inch of my own space
Beat it up, whip it, top it with a little scream
All that you are for all that you do
Crush it all, kill it, calling out my enemy
Don't want anything, I want nothing from you
Dry it up baby, turn around and walk away
Cry your tears, pussy
Lift it up, destroy it, build it up to tear it down
All the little things that make me run away
Just a few seconds away
From everyone, from everything
Just a few seconds away
All I want from all of you
Just a few seconds away
Away from this, it's never ending
Just a few seconds away
Just a second of your time
And an inch of my own space

Stop talking, stop bothering me, just walk away
I've had enough today, yeah
I have a life too, I've had enough of you
Feel like screaming, so go the fuck away
Go away, go away
Go away, go away
Just a few seconds away
From everyone, from everything
Just a few seconds away
All I want from all of you
Just a few seconds away
Away from this, it's never ending
Just a few seconds away
A second of your time
