

Blackmail the Universe

Megadeth

{ This is breaking news
It appears that Air Force One was shot down
Somewhere over the Middle East this morning
By a sleeper cell of rogue terrorists firing a Stinger Missile
The Pilot and all passengers are unaccounted for
The President's whereabouts are presently unknown
And he is presumed missing
The Vice President, Secretary of State
And principals of the military are assembling
Our nation stands at DEFCON 3 } The greatest crisis, will someone come for me?
I, red, white and blue
Unleashed revenge, my body is detained
How could anybody do this? Betrayal, I peel away the days
Medals are useless, Uncle Sam's forgotten me
I'm not important, no one will ever come
I'll never be found, God get me out of this hell Nuclear battlefields energized
Cold wars are heating up again
The tensions mounting
People lift up your fists in revenge The stage is set
Who will be the first to blink?
We can't go to war
Remember that "Vietnam thing" A peace at any price
With a gun to your head bang, bang
Weakness runs in your family
Oh what runs in mine is death This is your five minute warning
Burn all of your classified documents
And if cooler heads don't prevail
First strike from a political dead man { Appeasement only makes the aggressor more aggressive
He understands only one language, action
And he respects only one word, force
No sign of them stopping, no time for back channel communiques
We need all the help we can get
Air strikes and invasions, retaliate, I say
The will of good men can not counter the terrible strain of war } Blackmail the universe with the greatest of calamities
Awaken those sleeping giants in the dust of the ground
With their skin destroyed, unjust to innocence
Lawful possessor of the world's last twenty-four hours Terror and ugliness reveal what death really means
And in hatred you'll see men as they really are

If chosen over heaven, earth will have been for them
All along, only another region of hell
