Gotta Get Over You

Aslyn

If I wanted to believe you, I guess I could
And if I wanted to understand you, I guess I would But my days would go blank and I'd be freezing naked
'Cuz stripped of you, well, that's modestly all that I knowSo I'm not ready to get over you 'cuzIf I gotta get over you
I gotta get over every piece that puzzled you and me
If I gotta get over you
I gotta get over feeling my heart and tasting and seeingIf I gotta get over you
I gotta get over earth, wind, and fire
Change the soap in the shower
If I gotta get over you
I gotta get over singing this song for hundreds of hoursSo boy while you chip in some understanding
I'll make a deal with my mess
And cleaning up what I wanna be saying is my first big step
When I close my eyes and everything I run into
Is stubbing me with bruises of memories of youI'm not ready to get over you 'cuzIf I gotta get over you
I gotta get over every piece that puzzled you and me
If I gotta get over you
I gotta get over feeling my heart and tasting and seeingIf I gotta get over you
I gotta get over earth, wind, and fire
Change the soap in the shower
If I gotta get over you
I gotta get over singing this song for hundreds of hoursWaffle house jokes and romantic comedies
Avon Cologne and credit card entries
Butter on popcorn and that mercury sable
The whole darn state of North CarolinaMy pink leather jacket and cherry hi-c
When I'm finally without you
Can't figure out what will be left of meIf I gotta get over you
I gotta get over every piece that puzzled you and me
If I gotta get over you
I gotta get over feeling my heart and tasting and feelingIf I gotta get over you
I gotta get over earth, wind, and fire
Change the soap in the shower
If I gotta get over you
I gotta stop singing this song for hundreds of hours

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/