

Art of Communication

Glasseater

Countless scuffles, countless battles, countless wars
Where did the art of communication go end result
Some walk away with a feeling of victory
While many get to live the rest of their lives with loss
It's been quoted to keep your friends close
And your enemies closer
But who's to say who you're real friends and enemies are when
Many times you feel the kiss of Judas on your face
Here we go again trying to find a solution
To a recurring problem, I wonder why
We haven't been able to learn from
Our mistakes in the years gone by and we still destroy ourselves
I'll be the better person here
Let's put the past behind us now and think about tomorrow
There's so much out for all of us to experience
We'll work together and coexist, who said friendship doesn't work
It's been quoted to keep your friends close
And your enemies closer
But who's to say who you're real friends and enemies are when
Many times you feel the kiss of Judas on your face
Here we go again trying to find a solution
To a recurring problem, I wonder why
We haven't been able to learn from
Our mistakes in the years gone by and we still destroy ourselves
There is so much out there to do with ourselves
Than be at each other's neck
There is so much out there to do with ourselves
Than be at each other's neck
With each others hands, we destroy ourselves
With each others hands, we destroy ourselves
With each others hands, we destroy ourselves
With each others hands, we destroy ourselves
Here we go again trying to find a solution
To a recurring problem, I wonder why
We haven't been able to learn from
Our mistakes in the years gone by and we still destroy ourselves
Here we go again trying to find a solution
To a recurring problem, I wonder why
We haven't been able to learn from
Our mistakes in the years gone by and we still destroy ourselves

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>