Miles End

Gomez

Chinese symbols on his robe
Never gonna match up with that smile
He's wearing mostly black and gold
It's been twelve days, the longest for a whileHe's been fortunate
He can't tell a lie
Redheads, blonds, brunettes
They all fall for his linesHe's been king now for so long
His days are numbered
Times have changed, so move along
The dream is overDraped across Egyptian linen
Even Cleopatra casts an eye
A gossamer see-through zipped up tracksuit
Champagne bottle, ten o'clock on fireHe's been fortunate
He cannot deny
Jacuzzi baronet
With soap suds in his eyesHe's been king now for so long
His days are numbered
Times have changed, so move along
The dream is overHe's been king now for so long
His days are numbered
Times have changed, so move along
The dream is overWe've been waiting for so long
We think it's over
