

Crucial Fracture

Jay Ray

By a little twist of fate
You'll get soaked in to this lake
It welcomes you with warmness
Gentle feeling of softness Hold it dear
You open your eyes wide with fear Like a sun going down, escaping from you
You feel tired and worthless
Where there was a light, now is darkness
It's consuming you to the bone The small crucial fragment of fate
Uniting two as one since the day
It comes so strong, so strong feel it is going to be everlasting And you embrace it in your arms
Hold it dear
Never let it go, even the sun goes down
You open your eyes wide with fear You are going to be alone again
Just empty shell
Empty, disposed Crucial fragment of love
Lifting you high, so high above
Giving you a place to be at, something to hold on to Until it all comes crashing down
Forcing you down on your knees
Down on your knees
Until you start to drown And you embrace it in your arms
Hold it dear
Never let it go, even the sun goes down
You open your eyes wide with fear By a little twist of fate you get soaked in this lake
(It welcomes you with warmness, gentle feeling of softness)
You're going to be alone again, empty, disposed, holding on And you embrace it in your arms
Hold it dear
Never let it go, even the sun goes down
You open your eyes wide with fear You fight for it, not wanting to lose
The harder you fight, the more you lose The more you lose
