

Houston Heights

Blue October

I wanna light my soul on fire
Sit back and watch it burn
Then call my enemies over
And let them take their turn
Let's see whose flame burns brighter
Let's see who is ready to quit oh
Let's talk about where you come from
And what you're gonna do with this We want the same thing
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We want the whole world
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We wanna stay cool
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We keep our nose clean
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough You know nothing about me
You're always gonna doubt me
So try to live without my
Passionately crazy
Allergic to the lazy
I'm walking into work like "fuck yeah"
Never waste a minute of the moment 'cause I'm in it
The chance that I've been given, right?
The life that I am living
Forgiveness is for giving
So fuck yeah, fuck yeah, come on We want the same thing
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We want the whole world
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We wanna stay cool
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We keep our nose clean
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough I believe this is my life it's your life
It's our life, in all life
We mold like it's fucking clay
I believe this is my life, it's your life
It's our life, in all life, it's all life yeah I believe this is my life it's your life
It's our life, in all life
We mold like it's fucking clay
I believe this is our life, it's our life

It's our life, in all life, it's all life yeah yeah
We want the same thing
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We want the whole world
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We wanna stay cool
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough
We keep our nose clean
Oh yeah, but it just ain't good enough

Songwriters

Justin Furstenfeld, Matt Noveskey
Published by Lyrics © Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd.,

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>