

Open Your Eyes

Disturbed

You're paralyzed with your disguise
You feed on the lies that they tell you
Got to break away from the numbing pain
So calm to the rage that's inside you
You're hypnotized, demoralized
You'll need every lie that they sell you
Stop channelling, whatever will remains
To sort from what's fiction and what is dream

Open your eyes

Open your eyes

See through the disguise, won't you open your eyes? You've lost your sense from the emptiness

You do as the headlines compel you
Come home again and let the war begin
Destroy the veneer that surrounds you
There's no defense for your recklessness
You stare as the proof lies before you
Why can't you see, are you afraid to be Exposed to the demons around you?

Open your eyes

Open your eyes

See through the disguise, won't you open your eyes? Open your eyes

Open your eyes

Open your eyes

See through the disguise, won't you open your eyes? You will now be running, in a world you cannot hide

Know the end is comin' for the lamb that's standing in line

Overcoming, there's a fury built inside

It can all be broken, if you'd only open your eyes

Open your eyes

Open your eyes

See through the disguise, won't you open your eyes? Open your eyes

Open your eyes

Open your eyes

See through the disguise, won't you open your eyes?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>