Red Hearts

Prince Ivan

its been awhile since i've smiled at a stranger, in a world where we all need a friend its while, whats the danger, to open up and let love in we live in a time of confusion, we don't exactly know who we are but it alright theres a solution, and this is how it starts, yeah don't focus on what makes us different, black or white we all share this place

so don't put each other down, we all bleed the same, oh oh, cause we all have red hearts

in a crowd you can feel so lonely, but take a look around we all feel the same i think its time to try and let your heart free, and take a hand and let love free, oh

don't focus on what makes us different, black or white we all share this place
so don't put each other down, we all bleed the same, oh oh, cause we all have red hearts and i know that you can see past the outside look beneath

don't focus on what makes us different, black or white we all share this place
so don't put each other down, we all bleed the same, oh oh, cause we all have red hearts

cause we all have red hearts

red hearts

we all have red hearts.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/