Steal Your Fire

Lauren Harris

Read it in the paper
Nothing comes free
I don't need nobody
Praying for me
Only ever tell you
What they want you to know
Why don't you do it
Why don't you go

Don't you struggle
Don't you lie
Sell your secrets
It will be alright
Can't let this chance
Pass me by
I can see it
For the first time

I'm gonna steal your fire
When all these changes come
See them falling one by one
I'm gonna steal your fire
When all these changes come
See them falling one by one

Meet me in the middle
Listen to the sound
Everything you say
Comes back round
Why did you do it
Why did you lie
You can't escape
The feeling inside

Can't let this chance
Pass me by
Tell myself it's Gonna be alright
I can feel it
I can hear it

I can see it
For the first time

I'm gonna steal your fire
When all these changes come
See them falling one by one
I'm gonna steal your fire
When all these changes come
See them falling one by one

Tell me that your satisfied
Tell me was it suicide
You've been living in another world
Change is coming all across this land

Are you strong enough
Are you brave enough
Was it ever enough
Have you had enough

(You better listen to me while you can)
You gotta lie down in the bed you made
(It can never be the same again)
You got laugh at all the madness
Whatever's gone wrong I can make it right
(Why don't you face it you can never win)
Free myself of all the sadness

(You better listen to me while you can)
I'm sick of this world and it's greed for gold
(It can never be the same again)
I'm sick and tired of being bought and sold
Life's a gamble, nothing's sure
(Why don't you face it you can never win)
I can see it for the first time

I'm gonna steal your fire
When these changes come

I'm gonna steal your fire

I can see them falling one by one
I'm gonna steal your fire
