

Run

Escape From The Zoo

Just like you I'm born to fight,
go to war or stay out of sight.
Choose/shoot your poison,
say goodbye,
up to your goddamn cloud you'll fly.
Kill the children, kill the poor;
Is their machine worth fighting for?
For the future, for our lives;
Without our poison we'll fuggin die.

Boil the seas to the sky.
Turn your blood to lye.
Destroy yourself, stare at the sun
It's not worth it, why don't you run?
Why don't you run?

It's money in the pocket of greedy corporate scum
Everytime we buy a bottle and have some fuggin fun
Slave labor is the source of every line of cut cocaine.
If you get hooked, just take your pills, or you're surely go insane.
Don't worry about your medical bills, just owe the bank your soul.
Try to escape, you claw and rake, just dig a deeper hole.
Put fat cats up on 50 story pedestals of gold,
While withdrawals choke you, make you shake, and scrape your goddamn skull.

Boil the seas to the sky.
Turn your blood to lye.
Destroy yourself, stare at the sun
It's not worth it, why don't you run?
Why don't you run?

Now we're diseased, can't fuggin breathe.
It's time for the sleaze to sing the reprise.
The taste it just teases, the poison it pleases.
Live through the seizures, still never be free.
