

Blue Sky

Lou Berry

Oh yesterday, I fell in love with an angel
And it feels so good
I can even remember
Why I've been searching so long
For a reason to live
For a reason to try On a rainy sunday night
Sipping whisky at the Jazz Club bar
Red lips blue heels, dress so tight
Suddenly I saw the light
Black hat hands so smooth
Smoke travelling through his lips
He asked "do you like blues"
He put his hands on my hips
I wanna reach a blue sky where there's no heart diseases
When I'm with you I can only dream about a thing
I wanna reach a blue sky yeah I wanna believe
That you may love me too cause I do I do
Wanna reach blue sky away form my fears
A place I can truly be me and i do
I do have found my blue sky it wasn't overseas
I just had to look at you baby My blue Sky dream so obsessive
I don't feel like getting over it
I still hear you whispering my name
When I was naively laying on your bed
I want to believe your lies
We're still awake watching the sunrise
Mister false pretence
Like Amy said, you don't make sense
Oh yesterday, I fell in love with an angel
And it feels so good
I can even remember
Why I've been searching so long
For a reason to live
For a reason to try I wanna reach a blue sky where there's no heart diseases
When I'm with you I can only dream about a thing
I wanna reach a blue sky yeah I wanna believe
That you may love me too cause I do I do
Wanna reach blue sky away form my fears
A place I can truly be me and i do

I do have found my blue sky it wasn't overseas
I just had to look at you baby
