The Other Side (Magic Man Remix)

Madi Diaz

One touch from your silver tongue
First kiss, taste the barrel of the gun
Black smoke from the cracks in your doorway
Up the walls, crawling out the ceiling
Outline of your body unfold.An unfamiliar face, different shape of eye
And so you look away every single time
An unfamiliar face, different shape of eye
And so you look away every single time.Stairway climbing down to the bottom
Naked eye looking out of the chasm
You catch the sight of yourself, there's a dim light
Changing shape in the shadows at night
Lift the veil when you close your eyes.
An unfamiliar face, different shape of eye
And so you look away every single time
An unfamiliar face, different shape of eye
And so you look away every single time.One more love, one more life
Goes closer to the other side
One more love, one more life
Goes closer to the other side.Side, side, side, side
Side, side, side, side.One more life, I give it up
One more life, I give it up
One more life, I give it up
One more life, I give it up.Side, side, side, side.
One more love, one more life
Goes closer to the other side
One more love, one more life
So you look away every single time.
