Lay Down and Die, Goodbye

Alice Cooper

Well, I pray in my final hour
For the people who yet must die
For the liars and the robbers
And the cheating crimes
Who tortured the deadly timesWell, I've written home to mother
The ink ran from my tears
I said, "Momma, momma, oh please
Tell me why you've brought me here"Well, I'll hang on another minute
But really I have to go
If you ever want to see me again
You know what you can doWell, I've written home to mother
The ink ran from my tears
I said, "Momma, momma, oh please
Tell me why you've brought me here"

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/