Superdrag

I've been wasting, wondering where you are
I've been wondering if you'd be my star
I never knew your secret, I can keep it somewhere in my throat
I've been jonesing, droning for your heartI could use you when I fall apart
I love you true in secret
Could you keep it somewhere in your blood?
How could you be afraid to give a thing so good?I've been wasting, wondering where I am
I've been wondering if you'd be my lamb
I never knew your secret
Could you keep it somewhere I've been shown?And when I go to sleep
It sends me sleeping through your telephone
