

Rise

Azure Ray

Today I'll crawl out of bed
I can't stand your shadow
Is too heavy to lift
Maybe we'll go for a ride You said, you'd take me nowhere
I said, "That suits me just fine"
I know you've always been near
Whispering secrets I know
I'm not supposed to hear Hold your heart with two hands
Give it to me only to disappear
Look how low I've sunk
Don't ask me to rise I'll only lose you when I'm high
All alone in the dark
Love survives only when we are apart
Your voice still sounds in my ears Soft explosions that blossom
With the beat of my heart
