Hopeless

Sister Hazel

A grand empty canvas creatin' my life
A strange situation, there's no wrong or right
And I'm learnin' along the way
From the first time I met you, what could I do
But pray for the strength to see this one through
And I'm tryin' it slips away
A hopeless romantic but nothin' feels right
A ship full of lovers that sails out of sight
I wait for the answers to fall from the sky
I'm walkin' through trees where the path has been worn
Where hearts have been ripped out, trampled and torn
And I'm sorry, I'm sorry once again
A hopeless romantic but nothin' feels right
A ship full of lovers that sails out of sight
I wait for the answers to fall from the sky
To fall from the sky
A perfect beginning but why does it end
And when will I learn to let someone in
I wait for the answers to fall from the sky
Yeah, yeah
A hopeless romantic but nothin' feels right
A ship full of lovers that sails out of sight
I wait for the answers to fall from the sky
To fall from the sky
A perfect beginning but why does it end
And when will I learn to let someone in
I wait for the answers to fall from the sky, yeah
It's hopeless, so hopeless
So hopeless, yeah
Yeah, yeah
