

Condemned

Wartorn

I'm so restless
These walls drain my thoughts
Rooms with no sun
I can't find my way out
It used to be my home
These days far from my comfort zone
Alive but without control
Fear is taking hold
I should cross the line
Confront lives too blind
Hear a distant cry
Would you tell me how
Break the cycle that I'm in
And discover the living
I don't recognize my soul
Condemned to live in this black hole

Deep within time
Then crave warning signs
Hear a distant cry
Would you tell me how
Break the cycle that I'm in
And discover the living
I should cross the line
Confront lives too blind
Hear a distant cry
Would you tell me how
Break the cycle that I'm in
There's a hill to climb
Would you dream if I
Design the future
And lock the end of time
