Written In Sand

Ralphtones

Your eyes are the color of the sea
You look my way and the waves wash over me
Your body shivers with the fading light
And you say, baby, lets just make it last tonightAnd when the morning comes
You take me by the hand
And say, our love is written in sand
Written in sandWe hear the ocean roar
Were swept away on to some distant shore
You whisper secrets of the heart
They keep us close when the world keeps us apartUntil tomorrow comes
Time is on our hands
Because this love is written in sand
Written in sandNothing lies between a woman and a man
When their love is written in sand
When their love is written in sand
When their love is written in sandWritten in sand
Written in sand
Written in sand
