Temporary Insanity

The Psycho Realm

You better dig deep and find your soul 'cause you're lost
Need guidance, which way to go, people are despicable
Unpredictable spirits callin' out so all you weak-minded hear it
To take control over your mind and body, hip-hop is more than Just a flow in a party strike down the ungodly, unoriginal, hypocrites

Let 'em burn at the stake like chicken strips fried cut up denied respect
Some have lost their lives and died through their neglect
May they all rest in peace where they lay
Where we continue to struggle and live our lives day to day

What do you see when you're lookin' into the eyes
Of a madman on the verge of insanity?
Lookin' out the window I see the animals in the darkness
The fearless, the scandalous, the heartless

Roam bare chests, woman with bare breasts, hollow
Follow the Sun God, Apollo, wake up tomorrow with yellow
Eyes seein' visions of explicit visits to the other side with precision
Temporarily losin' my head steadily falling heavily on my shoulders

Getting me on my Achilles hell, I fell like somebody pulled
The plug from my brain signals indicate I'm on my way
Open the gates, be insane, psycho babble, constant battle
With myself pop the top on the pain killers on the top shelf

If I need help to maintain my mental health but overall
I'm doin' what it takes to get my shoe in the door let me win
The score sufferin' from constant war from two characters
Behavin' like bad actors not stickin' to their roles causin' more drama
After the show is over, I feel like a soldier caught between two brigades
Which one am I to aid

What do you see when you're lookin' into the eyes
Of a madman on the verge of insanity?
Lookin' out the window I see the animals in the darkness
The fearless, the scandalous, the heartless

If there's ever road blocks ahead, then cars will be crashing
High in front of your eyes their lives flashing by no time to ask why

You know how it is in the city we roam, you're crazy
Therefore you're makin' me go cyclone all pursuits go in a stole lo, lo, lo

Followed by the rival L.A. 5'O narcs are led to the dark
Then brought down to the concrete around downtown
I personally take care of all you wicked ass Hollywood sheriffs
What if one night you just come beating on a wicked drum
I'm going through a quick view of what I thought
Was my mind being torn apart?

What do you see when you're lookin' into the eyes
Of a madman on the verge of insanity?
Lookin' out the window I see the animals in the darkness
The fearless, the scandalous, the heartless
