

Belief Revival

InMe

Worst case scenario becomes a reality,
And you don't see me laughing,
I couldn't ever have predicted this fatality,
Now I'm dead, does it please you? All my suffering,
Was in vain, I can't blame anyone,
Would you do it all again? I hope I never see you again,
Cos those days are over,
This has to be the toughest thing,
That I've ever been through, I stood alone,
I couldn't have known this would happen,
And had I known,
My belief wouldn't have been so mis-shapen. I was never one to swallow moonshine,
I'd rather spit it back in your face,
I won't deliberately try to avoid conflict,
Ever again just to please you. All my suffering,
Was in vain, I can't blame anyone,
Would you do it all again? I hope I never see you again,
Cos those days are over,
This has to be the toughest thing,
That I've ever been through. I stood alone,
I couldn't have known this would happen,
And had I known,
My belief wouldn't have been so mis-shapen. All my suffering,
Was in vain, I can't blame anyone,
Would you do it all again? I hope I never see you again,
Cos those days are over,
This has to be the toughest thing,
That I've ever been through. I stood alone,
I couldn't have known this would happen,
And had I known,
My belief wouldn't have been so mis-shapen,
I'm so out of line,
I couldn't have planned this if I tried,
My belief is revived,
Maybe my sorrow can finally drown.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>