

Pretty

Samantha Moore

Where do I got when I'm left to fit in

Growing up is easy when you live beneath your skin

I try to speak but the words they can't escape my mouthSo I laugh when they laugh and I smile when they smile
I've been told

What to feel who to be all the whileDo you see me

And everything I'm supposed to be

Do you feel me

Should I pretend to feel something real

When I just bleed to know I'm alive

Cause I'm going numb on the inside

Its so pretty, so prettyWalked all the way home without making a sound

Watched the smile fall from your face onto the ground

Forever didn't last and it all seems to blendSo I laugh when they laugh and I smile when they smile I've been told

What to feel who to be all the whileDo you see me

And everything I'm supposed to be

Do you feel me

Should I pretend to feel something real

When I just bleed to know I'm alive

Cause I'm going numb on the inside

Its so pretty, so pretty
