

In A Different Light

The Bangles

I see you in a different light
I see you in a different light
I want to make a movie
I want to put you on the silver screen
Sit in a darkened room and look at you from a distance want to write a novel
Freeze all your expressions into words
Come back later and read about what I should have heard
I see you in a different light
I see you in a different light
I want to paint your portrait
Hang your colors on my wall
Discussing form and content with my friends and drinks
And no one thinks at all
I see you in a different light
I see you in a different light
