

What About Love?

Traci Braxton

Eyes close head down pretending not to be awake my hearts bruse cause you're acting like it's okay.
I'm laying down beside you but inbetween us there is an empty space my heart still beats but its only so much it can take

What about love?

What about love?

I don't wanna be the only one fighting tryna save something you don't want what about love?

What about love?

Is it a curse?

Should I just lay here and hope these feelings go away?

Cuase I wanna scream out another night its like another heart break I don't wanna love you but I lead the way you want me to I got my eyes wight open hand me with the trued tell me if I matter to you

What about love?

What about love?

I don't wanna be the only one fighting tryna save something you don't want what about love?

What about love?

Is it a curse?

if you are willing to fight for us then why should I!

I'm willing to sacrifice all for us to get what I want its gonna take more.

Than love to keep us together but will be stronger if we have it again!

What about love?

What about love?

I don't wanna be the only one fighting tryna save something you don't want what about love?

What about love?

Is it a curse?

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>