

Come Feel The Sun

Tindersticks

Why don't you come out?
The guards have gone
They forgot their purpose and shuffled
Their lungs have come feel the sun

Why don't you come out?
The dogs lie sleeping
Their lips they twitch with the chills in their dreams
They come feel the sun

Why don't you come out
And exact your revenge?
And the liars and wasters
That call themselves friends

For to forgive is overrated
As they need but your affiance
So come feel the sun

Why don't you come out
We are missing your wife and babies
That just want to hold you
So come feel the sun, touch your fears
