In Praise of the Vulnerable Man

Alanis Morissette

You are the bravest man Ive ever met
You unreluctant at treacherous ledge
Only you, you are the sexiest man Ive ever been with Oh you, you, never hotter than with armor spentWhen you do what you do to provide
How you land in the soft as you fortify
This is in praise of the vulnerable man
Why wont you lead the rest of your cavalry home?You, with your eyes mix strength with abandon
You with your new kind of heroism
And I bow and I bow down to you
To the grace that it takes to melt on throughThis is in praise of the vulnerable man
Why dont you lead the rest of your cavalry home?
This is a thank you for letting me in
Indeed in praise of the vulnerable manYou are the greatest man Ive ever met
You, the stealth setter of new precedents
And I vow and I vow to be true
And I vow and I vow not take advantageThis is in praise of the vulnerable man
Why wont you lead the rest of your cavalry home?
This is a thank you for letting me in
Indeed in praise of the vulnerable man
