What We Once Had

The Perishers

Don't care 'bout what I said
Just care 'bout what I've done
Though lots of trust is gone
You're still the only oneDon't dare to hope for much
I'm doing the best I can
I take it as it comes, when it comesIt's like you and I don't even try to get along
Like the two of us together are wrong
It's like you and I can't let the good make up for the bad
Guess we can't go back to what we once hadDon't care 'bout what I said
Just care 'bout what I've done
Though years have come and gone
You know you're still the one
