Back Around

Josh Thompson

When your parents left for a week that month
You couldn't separate the two of us
Down on the edge of that lake
Where more than memories were made
Like the water rollin' off your hips
Love rolled off of your lips
We laughed 'cause we were scared to death
A couple kids soakin' wet
A right there on the blanket that we brought
We lost more than a diamond earring
Found forever when I held you near me
Holdin' on like the world was endin'
You and I found a new beginning
As we sat there and watched the sun goin' down
And watched it come back around
When the daylight started to steal the moon
We knew we should leave but we couldn't move
Frozen from the moment that we just shared
Didn't say nothing, we just laid there

Now when I wake up to your face I go back to where
We lost more than a diamond earring
Found forever when I held you near me
Holdin' on like the world was endin', you and I found a new beginning
As we sat there and watched the sun goin' down
And watched it come back around
Lakeside in the moonlight, that's right where I want to be
When we lost more than a diamond earring
Found forever when I held you near me
Holdin' on like the world was endin'
You and I found a new beginning
It was right there where we first learned
That love was more than just a word
As we sat there and watched the sun goin' down
And watched it come back around
Yeah, we sat there and watched the sun goin' down
And watched it come back around

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/