

Running All Over the Wicket

Future of the Left

if twenty therapists want to tempt me with their tit-rings they should know that i own a werewolf and the sense to use it a dead body in the boot of a nova is the least of my problems as long as there is still room for the shopping (the cheese and lager, my piece of the action)the prospect of running all over the wicketif any amateurs want to enter they should write in enclose stamps and an application that we will fill in the real price of successful business is constant vigil i only came for the domination (the murder and dancing was just a distraction)the prospect of running all over the wicket dust-bowlpity the fire the fire-scrapers pity the fire escapersdaddy got his hand on the faders daddy got his hand on the faders he thinks they are potatoes he thinks they are for tea
