

To Take the Black

The Sword

Cast out from the lands of their births
Banished from hearth and home
All brothers must swear the oath
Forsaking all they've ever known If you choose to take the black
Bid farewell to comforts great and small
Those who do don't come back
Prepare yourself for life on the wall Night gathers and the watch begins
The wind carries an unnatural chill
There are things beyond the northern borders
Mere steel can't kill Men who choose to take the black
Rogues and rangers, one and all
Those who do won't come back
Prepare yourself for life on the wall

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>