

Paranoia

Max Frost

Make some sense
Voices calling my name
And I can't ignore them, can't ignore them
All night and day, serve a string of
Paranoia, paranoia

I can't run away, when you run away
You gotta face what's in front of you
I was afraid, but I knew I had stay
To see the outcome

Someone's keeping close, someone's creeping close
Someone on my shoulder, shoulder
Why I turn around, yet I turned around
In the nowhere, nowhere
I keep on waking up and thinking someone's at the door
I keep on wanting to open to the shadows on the floor

Make some sense
Voices calling my name
And I can't ignore them, can't ignore them
All night and day, serve a string of
Paranoia, paranoia
